Literacy Block

Students will read about all the Superkids in March. They will continue to work in small groups at literacy centers and work with the teacher to build early reading and writing skills!

At Home Connection

Practice these alliterative sentences and then make up some with your child!

Alliteration

Alliteration is the repetition of the beginning sound in two or more nearby words. Authors add alliteration to entertain their readers and draw attention to a phrase or sentence.

Silly Susie sings songs while she strolls to the store.

Betty baked brownies for her best friend Billy.

Mrs. Miller makes melodies during music.

The rain roared right outside my window.

The generous gentlemen just paid my entire bill.

Adding alliteration is like adding a little tongue twister to your writing.
